

OUR STORY

Christopherson Business Travel has been helping companies connect face to face with partners, clients, and opportunities around the world for more than 60 years.

Founded in 1953 by Merrill and Lucille Christopherson, the company is now owned by Mike and Camille Cameron who purchased it in 1990. At that time, Christopherson had two employees and booked $1 million in travel.

Today, as a certified, woman-owned corporation, we employ a team of nearly 300 travel professionals located in 30 states across the country, as well as 20 client-dedicated on-site locations, and finished 2019 with nearly $700 million in travel bookings.

Through a team of consultative account managers, expert travel advisors, and AirPortal, our proprietary technology platform, Christopherson provides intelligent travel management for more than 1,000 clients across the country, including Fortune 500 companies, government organizations, universities, and private businesses.
